MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

WEDNESDAY, November 20, 1751.

From a late Public Print.

An EPISTLE from a Society of Young LADIES.

GENTLEMEN, what Charms has the dull, ſtupid, ſauntering Life of a Batchelor above that of a married Man? What are his Advantages? Where is the Joy of living on the Earth without having any one Place in it that he can call his Home? What Pleaſure is there in a ſelfiſh Unconcern for all the World? What Comfort in having none concern'd or intereſted for you?

The dry, dull, drowſy Batchelor ſurveys,
Alternate, joyleſs Nights and loneſome Days;
No tender Tranſports wake his ſullen Breaſt;
No ſoft Endearments lull his Cares to reſt;
Stupidly free from Nature's tend'reſt Ties.
Loſt in his own ſad Self he lives and dies.
Not ſo the Man, to whom indulgent Heaven
That tender Boſom-Friend a Wife has given.
Him, bleſt in her kind Arms, no Fears diſmay,
No ſecret Checks of Guilt his Joys allay;
No Huſband wrong'd, no Virgin's Honour ſpoil'd,
No tender Parent weeps his ruin'd Child;
No fell Diſeaſe, no falſe Embrace is here,
The Joys are ſafe, the Raptures are ſincere.
Does Fortune ſmile? How grateful muſt it prove,
To tread Life's pleaſing Round with one you love!
Or does ſhe frown? With one whoſe ſoft'ning Art
Will ſooth your Woes, or bear a willing Part.

Forgive us Gentlemen, this Start of Poetry; the Warmneſs of our Hearts occaſion'd the Elevation of our Stile: But if we have ſaid nothing but what is true, nothing but what is juſt and reaſonable, we hope the Strikingneſs of the Contraſt, and the Strength of the Sentiments will co-operate together to make you aſhamed of yourſelves; and as the Firſt Fruits of your Repentance, throw yourſelves at our Feet, and with humble and contrite Hearts confeſs your paſt Follies, and joyfully embrace the Forgiveneſs, which our tender Boſoms will undoubtedly be diſpoſed to favour you with.

But come, we have hitherto carry'd it againſt you with a higher Hand than we at firſt intended. We will now endeavour, if we can, in ſome meaſure to apologize for you. Ah Gentlemen! Gentlemen! we are very much afraid your Ideas of the Sex are taken from the bad Part of them, which you are ſo much inclin'd to keep Company with; and becauſe you have been ſurfeited with ſtinking Fiſh, you imagine all Fiſh tainted! Becauſe you have unluckily had the keeping of a Magpye, you think every Bird muſt chatter, and wag its Tail. ——Indeed, indeed, Gentlemen, this is doing us great Injuſtice. But we will not dwell on ſo ticklish a Point.

Another Reaſon which may perhaps deter you from Matrimony is the Expence of it. This Point hath been argued with great Accuracy, and much hath been ſaid on both Sides. But after all, ſet the Extravagance of Tavern Bills, againſt the additional Expence of a Table; the laviſh Preſents to an infatiate Miſtreſs, againſt the moderate Expence of a modeſt Wife; the Surgeon's Bill againſt the Nurſe and the Midwife's; oppoſe all theſe fairly to each other, and the Balance of Expence will undoubtedly fall on the Batchelor's Side. Add to all this, who would not rather be the Father of Children, than the Begetter of a vagrant Race? To whom (if impudent Cuſtom did not harden you till paſt a Senſe of Shame) you durſt not give the ſweet Appellations of Sons and Daughters.

Another Hindrance to your engaging in the Marriage State, may be the unhappy Examples which may here and there preſent themſelves to your Obſervation. I will not indeed aſſert that all Women are Angels; tho' a great Man hath ſaid, that ſome Women are better Things: But I will maintain, in ſpite of any ill natured Fellow, whoſe Imperiouſneſs is generally the Cauſe of ſuch Examples, that Matrimony is the only Heaven on Earth; and your entering into that State, is literally entering in at the ſtrait Gate that leadeth to Life; and that purſuing the looſe and idle Courſe you at preſent do delight in, is following the broad and beaten Way that leadeth to Deſtruction.

LONDON, Auguſt 5.

ON Thurſday, the 25th ult. died, aged about Ninety, Mr. Thomas Bird, of the Pariſh of Claines, near the City of Worceſter, who was formerly a Rope Maker, but having acquired a handſome Fortune, left off Buſineſs, and lived very recluſe: It is remarkable that he died in the ſame Room where he was born, and never lay out of it but two Nights in his whole Life, neither had he been known to be at any Place of Worſhip for theſe forty Years paſt, except at ſuch Time as the Bells wanted new roping. About two Months before his Death, he made his Will, and left his whole Subſtance to his Houſekeeper (who had lived with him ſeveral Years) except a Barrel of Ale, which he ordered ſhould be drank out at his Funeral; but one Day having a Mind to taſte the Ale, to judge whether it was likely to be fit for that Purpoſe, it had ſuch an Effect upon him, that he grew better, and lived to ſee it quite out; yet, ſtill being perſuaded he ſhould not live long, he had another Barrel of Ale brewed, which was tapped, and drank out by the Perſons who attended his Funeral, on Saturday the 27th in the Evening. Soon after he was taken ill, he expreſſed great Uneaſineſs on Account of a Sum of Money he had out at Uſe, declaring he could not die ſatisfied 'till it was called in, which being done, he once more had an Opportunity of counting over his Treaſure, he afterwards ſeemed indifferent whether he died or lived; and about two Hours before his Death, beſpoke his Coffin, ordering it to be done as ſpeedily as poſſible; but before it was quite finiſhed, his Corpſe was ready for it.

Auguſt 15. All our Accounts from Paris are full of the Difference that ſubſiſts at preſent between the Court and Parliament, on the Affair of the Management of the Hoſpitals, which is puſhed to Extremity. Moſt People ſeem aſtoniſhed at the Firmneſs of that wiſe Body, and the Thinneſs of the Minority (conſiſting only of two) while the Politicians are no leſs amazed, that the Miniſtry not yet reconciled to the Clergy, ſhould imbarraſs themſelves alſo with this reſpectable Aſſembly, purely to demonſtrate the Extent of the Royal Prerogative, of which no Body in France makes any Doubt.

There has been a Rumour about Town within theſe few Days, of War with a certain neighbouring Power, but how it took Riſe we cannot aſcertain; however, we are aſſured, that ſome Ships of very extraordinary Dimenſions are building, in Caſe there ſhould be any Occaſion.

From Cadix we have Advice, that four Ships ſailed from thence for America, about three Weeks ago, with Land Forces on board, under Convoy of two Men of War.

Auguſt 20. The Honourable Commodore Keppel has ſent, as a Preſent, from Algiers, two fine Oſtriches, and a Lioneſs, to his Majeſty; four Oſtriches to his Royal Highneſs the Duke; and two Oſtriches to the Right Honourable the Earl of Sandwich.

That the Maintenance of the Indian Children in said School both as to Cloathing and Dieting, be at the Expence of the Government, except so far as is provided for by Mr. Hollis, or by the Corporation for propagating the Gospel.

That there be two English Youths put into the Boys School in order to learn the Indian Tongue, that so they may be qualified for future Service to the Government among the Indians, to be boarded at the Expence of the Government.

That Mrs. Ashley be retained as an Interpreter, who together with her Husband, may also be employed in the necessary Services of the Family.

And that there be likewise an expert and industrious Man procured to manage the Husbandry on the School Lands, and instruct the Youths therein, and that proper Utensils therefor be provided.

That Provision be made for the Subsistence of the Mohawk Families, together with what they may be able to supply themselves with by Hunting; until they shall be able to raise something upon the Lands to subsist themselves.

That a Letter be wrote to the Governor of Connecticut, informing them of the Measures taken by this Government, for securing the six Nations to the British Interest, as well as for their Instruction, and that we hope and expect they will join in them, and contribute towards the Expence.

That this Court do agree to the Proposal of Sir Peter Warren, of appropriating the Sum of Seven Hundred Pounds Sterling in his Hands for the Support and Education of the Mohawk Children, and that he be immediately advised thereof, and desired to transmit the same; and that it may be let out on Interest, and the Interest be applied to the Purposes aforesaid.

That a Letter be wrote to Mr. Hollis in London (who has employed Capt. Kellogg to support and educate a Number of Indian Children at his Expence) that he be informed of the Measures taken by this Government for the like Purposes, and desired to appoint one or more Trustees for the Management of his Charity, to act in concert with such Persons as may be appointed by this Government for carrying on said Design.

And, That a Committee be accordingly appointed by this Court to carry into Execution the foregoing Design; that they be impowered to receive such Donations from Time to Time as may and shall be offered for the Encouragement and Support of said Schools: That they have the Inspection and Regulation of the same, and the Management of all the Prudentials thereof, subject to such Directions and Instructions as they shall receive from this Court from Time to Time; said Committee to be accountable, and to be rewarded for their Services.

Sent down for Concurrence. Read and concurred.

Which Resolve passed the whole Court.

And on Thursday last, the following Gentlemen were chosen a Committee for the Purposes aforesaid, viz. Joseph Pynchon and Joseph Dwight, Esqrs; and Capt. John Ashley.

October 14. A Master of a Vessel who came Passenger from Eustatia to Salem, informs, that on his Passage to the West-Indies, he took up the Company of a Sloop belonging to Piscataqua, which was overset in the Hurricane, but being loaded with Lumber, she did not sink, and the Men getting upon her Bottom, continued there till taken off by the said Master, who carried them to Eustatia.

Saturday last Capt. Ring, in a Ship from Jamaica, bound to London, put into Cape-Anne to Water. She came out in Company with a large Ship and Snow, both bound to London, but meeting with bad Weather in the Windward Passage, the Ship was cast away and lost, but the Men saved, who were divided between Capt. Ring and the Snow, which last proceeded on her Voyage directly for London.

At the Court of Assize, &c. held at Salem last Week, one Ezekiel Eldred, was indicted for the Crime of Polygamy, of which he pleaded guilty; but when he was afterwards set to the Bar to receive Sentence, he pray'd for the Benefit of the Clergy, which was granted him, and he was burnt in the Hand, in the Face of the Court, and discharged, paying Costs. Polygamy is having more Wives than one.

October 21. Yesterday arrived here Capt. Rambell from Jamaica, who on the 14th of September last, met his Majesty's Ship Prince Henry, bound to that Island, having the Day before met with a terrible Gale of Wind, which carried away all her Masts, her Anchors from her Bow, and several of her Guns.
